

Panchenko Law Firm Wins AIOPIA Best Law Firm Award

August 18, 2026

CHARLOTTE, NC - August 18, 2026 -

Panchenko Law Firm has been selected to the American Institute of Personal Injury Attorneys 10 Best Law Firms in North Carolina, a consumer-facing recognition that evaluates attorneys through independent research, client nominations, and peer nominations. The selection process identifies firms that demonstrate superior qualifications, client satisfaction, and ethical standards in personal injury practice, positioning the Panchenko Best Law Firm award among the notable professional recognitions in the Charlotte metro legal market.

The recognition rests on a foundation of documented client satisfaction. Panchenko Law Firm holds a 5.0-star rating from more than 450 verified reviewers across Google and Chamber of Commerce platforms. That client-satisfaction record reflects nearly nine years of personal injury representation for car accident victims, motorcycle riders, truck accident survivors, and other injury clients throughout Mecklenburg County and Union County. The sustained five-star feedback underlies the AIOPIA selection and represents the client experience that earned the Best Law Firm award.

Among the firm's distinguishing characteristics is its multilingual capacity. Panchenko Law Firm provides personal injury representation in English, Spanish, Russian, and Ukrainian, serving one of the most linguistically diverse client populations in the Charlotte metro market. Significant communities of Spanish-speaking, Russian-speaking, and Ukrainian-speaking residents face the same personal injury claims challenges as any other Mecklenburg County resident, yet often without language access to quality legal representation. As a Charlotte personal injury law firm multilingual in four languages, the practice addresses that gap directly.

Dmitriy Panchenko, Founder of Panchenko Law Firm, reflected on what the recognition represents. "This selection and the more than 450 five-star reviews behind it are not credentials for their own sake," Panchenko said. "They reflect what has been built over nearly nine years: a practice where the quality of client communication, case preparation, and outcome advocacy generates consistent feedback. Charlotte's Russian-speaking and Ukrainian-speaking communities face the same legal challenges as any other Mecklenburg County resident after an accident, and the multilingual team ensures those communities have access to representation without language barriers."

Dmitriy Panchenko founded the firm in 2017, making 2026 its ninth year of operation in the Matthews and Charlotte metro personal injury market. The AIOPIA 10 Best selection reflects sustained client-satisfaction and professional performance across nearly a decade of North Carolina personal injury practice. That milestone carries particular weight given the state's contributory negligence rule, which eliminates all recovery for a victim found even one percent at fault. That standard makes the quality of legal representation the most consequential factor in any Charlotte metro personal injury claim, and the recognition reflects exactly the sustained representation quality that contributory negligence cases demand.

As a Matthews NC personal injury attorney recognized for both consumer and peer standing, the firm continues to serve Matthews, Charlotte, Monroe, Concord, Indian Trail, and surrounding communities. More information is available through this Matthews personal injury lawyer resource at the firm's website.
