

RSD Law Attorneys Named in 33rd Best Lawyers Edition

September 03, 2026

CARLSBAD, CA - September 03, 2026 -

Rueb Stoller Daniel has announced that three of the firm's attorneys have been selected to the 2027 edition of The Best Lawyers in America® – the 33rd edition of the publication. Selection is based entirely on peer review by fellow attorneys who evaluate colleagues practicing in the same geographic region and practice area, making the honor one of the legal profession's most rigorously peer-evaluated forms of recognition.

The recognition of RSD Law in 33rd Edition of Best Lawyers reflects the firm's sustained national standing in mass tort, product liability, and catastrophic injury litigation. Named partner Paul L. Stoller has been recognized in Phoenix, Arizona across four distinct practice areas: Personal Injury Litigation – Plaintiffs, Product Liability Litigation – Plaintiffs, Insurance Law, and Litigation – Intellectual Property. The multi-area designation reflects the breadth of his national practice in complex litigation and the range of legal theories the firm brings to major cases.

Two additional Rueb Stoller Daniel attorneys were also selected to the 2027 edition, further underscoring the firm's collective litigation standing across geographic regions and practice areas. Their individual recognition details reflect the depth of the firm's practice in mass tort and class action representation.

The scale of the peer review process illustrates the significance of the honor. The 33rd Edition of Best Lawyers analyzed more than 13 million votes, with only the top five percent of attorneys in the United States and approximately three percent of attorneys globally earning a place in the publication. That threshold makes inclusion a meaningful measure of professional standing among peers.

Paul Stoller, Partner at Rueb Stoller Daniel, said the recognition reflects the interdisciplinary nature of the firm's work. "Peer recognition across personal injury, product liability, insurance law, and intellectual property litigation reflects the reality of how modern mass tort and class action cases unfold," Stoller said. "Multidistrict litigation frequently involves product liability theory, insurance coverage disputes, and increasingly intellectual property questions surrounding proprietary safety data, all within a single proceeding. Seeing three of the firm's attorneys recognized in one edition affirms the depth our team brings to that kind of complex litigation."

Rueb Stoller Daniel represents clients in mass tort and class action litigation, including leadership positions on Plaintiff Steering Committees in multiple MDL proceedings, as well as product liability, catastrophic injury, wrongful death, and medical malpractice matters. Named partners Gregory D. Rueb and Paul L. Stoller have collectively represented tens of thousands of clients across the United States over more than fifty combined years of practice.

The firm handles cases on a contingency fee basis, meaning clients incur no fee unless the firm secures a recovery. Rueb Stoller Daniel serves individuals in California, Arizona, Washington D.C., and nationally, with availability for consultations for those injured by defective drugs, dangerous medical devices, and other mass tort circumstances.
